

Greetings to all!

We are writing to you directly from Flensburg's fjord, where we have been invited to the Robbe&Berking Classics Sterling Cup under the blazing sun of this early summer. The breath of wind coming from the Baltic Sea as well as the dynamism and radiance of this event are a source of inspiration to us and they will nourish our projects for the year to come. As always, you will be the first to know!

Spring had already been delightful: the season started in Palma and was filled with encounters and novelties. Moonbeam IV, after winning the 2015 edition of Palma Vela for the first time, is now affiliated to the Real Club Nautico de Palma and was formally handed the club's flag. The new crew members Sam, Vic, Joël, Julie and Junie have each received an M4 engraved with their names and the RCNP's Commodore was also given his M4, handed by Mick Creac'h and by Thierry Henriot, who took part in this adventure from beginning to end, on this jewel among Fife's ships. Sport, effort, smiles and victory, all the ingredients were gathered to keep us under Mare Nostrum's enchantment, when the season begun and we could meet again at the end of winter!

In Palma still, we have confirmed our partnership with the director of the rigging company Trabajos en Cabos, the great Jean-Michel Rouve. We are distributing with him his T.E.C. knife which was custom-built for experienced sailors who will value the technical qualities of a tool that is made for them.

But the wind is in our sails... to the Voiles d'Antibes regatta and then towards the ocean and a new partnership: the International 6mJl Championship at La Trinité-sur-Mer, which is a true nautical and tactical pleasure. The date for the next session is already set.

Neptunia then left Morbihan for the Emerald coast and dropped anchor in Dinard's bay. There we equipped with our knives the magnificent 5 stars hotel Castelbrac's restaurant, imagined and passionately created by Yann Bucaille, where the talented Julien Henotte has been entrusted with the cuisine. We are very proud to say that our Star knife has been chosen for this first class establishment perched on top of its cliff and overlooking the sea !

All summer long, in Saint-Tropez, we continue our partnerships with the Voiles Latines regatta, the Giraglia Rolex Cup, the Trophée Bailli de Suffren and the Voiles de Saint-Tropez. All those who love Saint-Tropez should take note: the new SNST's Club House, La Nautique, will open its doors on July, 18th. There will finally be a more welcoming place for all of you who greet us with such warmth during the sailing season!

And talking about Mediterranean meetings, there are three that we would like to mention. First of all, with Gerhard Standop, a dear friend to Saint-Tropez's town who understood Neptunia's spirit so well. His beautiful presentations of our creations on his website are proof of that.

Then, there is Mathew Barker, who regularly attends the Regates Royales de Cannes. He is the captain and owner of the legendary cutter The Blue Peter, winner of many a regatta, also famous among the classic sailing enthusiasts. For him, we have created a dense and well-balanced dagger, which is an essential companion when sport sailing.

Our third spotlight is on the ATEIA research, excavation and arts and crafts circuit program on Pompeii's site. Since October 2014, Neptunia is in partnership with the Ecole Française de Rome, as a patron for the rediscovery of the wonderful crafts of Antiquity in Naples' bay, which is an emblematic place for the Mediterranean world.

In order to end on an attractive note this summer journey –which led us from the coasts of the Baltic Sea to the Channel, then to the Atlantic Ocean and all the way to the Mediterranean Sea – here are this season's last meetings:

Septembre 9th - 13th
Septembre 21th - 26th
Septembre 26th - Octobre 4th

Monaco Classic Week
Regates Royales de Cannes
Voiles de Saint-Tropez

Looking forward to seeing you again there!
